PERSONAL ACCIDENT INSURANCE

If you suffer an accident in Thailand, it's unlikely that you will be able to get compensation from the responsible party to cover your medical costs.

Personal Accident Insurance provides necessary medical coverage and a lump sum in the event of loss of sight, permanent disability or loss of life.

A wide range of cover is available and is primarily based on the amount payable for loss of life, which ranges from approx B500,000 to B3,000,000. Maximum medical coverage available is approx B100,000.

Personal Accident Insurance is inexpensive and it is recommended that you select the highest level of medical cover available. Even if you already have permanent health insurance, you should also have Personal Accident insurance to provide cover in case of accidents.
